These pages provide a record in chart and diagram form, of the descendants of James Scott Winter, born in Scotland in 1794. As a genealogy it is incomplete. Many of the maternal lines are missing because the information concerning them is no longer available. Spaces have been provided for whatever information may come to light in the future.

The information contained in these pages comes primarily from family records, and I am indebted to those members of the present generation of Winter descendants for current information regarding their respective branches of the family.

Although not as complete, nor, I fear, as accurate as I wish this record might be, I trust that it will serve a useful purpose, and above all, give our children and grandchildren an appreciation of their fine heritage, which they in turn will pass on to their own descendants.

Theodore Gommi

See following pages for details of these four branches on the family.

(*) Assuming 30 year average intervals between generations, there must have been an additional generation between William, born in 1670 and Alexander, to cover the 124 years between William and James, born in 1794.

TRANSCRIPT of LETTER written by JAMES SCOTT WINTER (I) (1794-1870) to his son CHARLES WINTER (II) (1836-1903) prior to the latter's departure from Scotland to settle in the United States.

15 Keir Street, Bridgend,
Perth, 29th April 1857.

My Dear Charles,

I received your letter on Monday morning and am only sorry for your disappointment in not getting away on Tuesday in so far as it prevented you from staying a few days longer with us here. I trust that by this time you have got all your arrangements concluded to your satisfaction.

I at one time intended to call upon Mr. Dymock on purpose to procure some testimonials for you but after some consideration I came to the conclusion that it was unnecessary to trouble him the more especially as he knows but very little about you and that you would at any rate be provided with a certificate from the clergyman whose ministrations you attended in Glasgow.

Though I am sorry that you should have taken it into your head to leave us all and go to such a distance, yet I have the consolation to think that you will endeavour to act the part of a man and a Christian, doing all you can in due subordination to the will of God to whose kind care and protection I most sincerely and from the heart recommend you. I could say a great deal now but for the present must conclude. Expecting to hear from you before you sail, I can only add that we all join in wishing you a safe passage and all the encouragement you can reasonably expect upon your arrival in the country to which you are destined.

That you may enjoy all happiness and every blessing that God in his Providence may see meet to bestow upon you, will continue to be the sincere prayer of your affectionate

Father

James Winter

The envelope, postmarked Perth Ap. 29 1857 was addressed to Mr. Charles Winter at Mrs. Mever's , 96 Eglinton Street, Glasgow.
