the 1990s, the number of people with diabetes has increased in all industrialized countries (1).

Diabetes is a chronic disease with a high prevalence. In the Netherlands, the prevalence of diabetes is 6.5% (2). The prevalence of diabetes is expected to increase in the next decades, because of the increasing prevalence of obesity and the increasing life expectancy (3).

Diabetes is a disease with a high morbidity and mortality. The mortality of diabetes is 2.5 times higher than that of the general population (4). The morbidity of diabetes is high, because of the complications of diabetes. The complications of diabetes are retinopathy, nephropathy, neuropathy, and cardiovascular disease (5).

The complications of diabetes are the main cause of disability and death in people with diabetes (6).

The complications of diabetes are preventable. The complications of diabetes can be prevented by a good control of the blood glucose level (7). The complications of diabetes can be prevented by a good control of the blood pressure (8).

The complications of diabetes can be prevented by a good control of the lipids (9).

The complications of diabetes can be prevented by a good control of the body weight (10).

The complications of diabetes can be prevented by a good control of the smoking status (11).

The complications of diabetes can be prevented by a good control of the alcohol consumption (12).

The complications of diabetes can be prevented by a good control of the diet (13).

The complications of diabetes can be prevented by a good control of the physical activity (14).

The complications of diabetes can be prevented by a good control of the stress (15).

The complications of diabetes can be prevented by a good control of the sleep (16).

The complications of diabetes can be prevented by a good control of the mental health (17).

The complications of diabetes can be prevented by a good control of the social support (18).

WE ARE A PEOPLE, UNITED IN CHRIST,

We are called to be a loving and inclusive community of faith, united and uniting, welcoming all people, in the name of Christ who welcomes us.

SINGING GOD'S PRAISES,

We are called to invite all people to join us in the life-renewing worship of God, crying out in our brokenness, celebrating God's grace and blessings on us.

SEEKING GOD'S WAYS,

We are called to discover God's word in the Bible, in our rich heritage, in faithful witness to the living Word, and in the fresh winds of the Spirit.

SERVING GOD'S WORLD,

We are called to promote the integrity, justice, mercy and peace God intends for all creation, reaching out in ministries and partnerships of prophetic criticism and care.

AND SHARING LIFE'S JOURNEY

We are called to support one another and share in the hopes and fears, joys and sorrows of all God's people, both in the Church and in the world.

-approved by the congregation, May 23, 1999
